

Yorkshire Philosophical Society

A Family Fossil Hunting Trip to Whitby

Sunday, 19th August, own transport or a lift

Stuart Ogilvy, deputy Curator of Geology at the Yorkshire Museum has, once again, agreed to take a party of members, young and old, to one of his favourite fossiliferous localities.

We will meet outside the Information Office on the riverside opposite the station at 11am. There are car parking facilities nearby (n.g.r. 899.108). From there we hope to work our way along the foreshore in an easterly direction. The whole area is fascinating geologically. Fossils are abundant, and the pits where jet was mined should be visible. If our reading of the tide tables is correct, low water should be at 12.15pm.

Wellies or stout footwear are recommended, as is waterproof clothing that you don't mind getting wet or muddy (it has been known to rain). Bring a packed lunch, and something to take your specimens home in.

The cost will be £6.00 per person, children go free. This covers administrative expenses and a small donation to the York Museums Trust.

The Yorkshire Philosophical Society accepts no responsibility for any loss or injury suffered while taking part in one of its visits. Participants are recommended to take out appropriate insurance cover.

Please return with your fee and a stamped addressed envelope to:

Graham Williamson, Yorkshire Philosophical Society,
The Lodge, Museum Gardens, York, YO1 7DR

Family Fossil Hunting Trip to Whitby, Sunday, 19th August

I/We would like ___ adult places and ___ children's places, and enclose a cheque for £___ (payable to the Yorkshire Philosophical Society).

I/We would be willing to offer a lift to ___ persons

I/We would like a lift if it could be arranged ___ (please tick if appropriate)

Name(s) -----

Address -----

Tel. ----- email-----

The Yorkshire Philosophical Society accepts no responsibility for any loss or injury suffered while taking part in one of its visits. Participants are recommended to take out appropriate insurance cover.